SCHEME OF THE DEMOCRATS

To Ignore the Majority Report and by a Simple Vote Scat Fleming. Major Chew's Act of Justice. Legislative Proceedings.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 21.—The more interesting to-day than usual, be ing on the eve of the great encounter which begins to-morrow. Senator Price, from the Committee on Rules, submittee allowed to appear in his own behalf. The committee had decided to allow the contestant and contestee to be heard, it they so desired, the time used by either to be taken from the ten hours allowed his counsel, and, further, that after these his counsel, and, further, that after these arguments, six hours are to be allowed the majority and the same the minority of committee, to be divided as they see proper, provided the chairman be allowed to conclude. Members of the committee may yield any part of their time to any member of the Legislature. Senator Morris, of the committee and there was no intention to deprive any member of an opportunity to be heard. The Senator from Mineral, (Price) had said in committee that there would be sufficient time for members to cousider the conflict between the minority and the conflict between the minority and

It had been indicated that the only trial of this cause shall be the argument by counsel. The contest committee had passed on 700 votes in one week hearing and considering the testimony. The joint session should give a more dignited appearance to this proceeding than to pass a resolution saying who should be seated, and then to seat him. Senator Morris designed to give notice that seem thing more would be insisted on.

The committee's report was adopted and the committee was given further time. Senator Morris indicated what will probably occasion a first-class senation in the great trial. Republicans want the cause tried, which includes testimony as well as arguments, on which the committee proposes to take a vote. Republicans want the joint assembly sitting as a court to have a chance to determine whether that vote shall be taken. They are as desirous as the other side policy of the Democratic managers seems to be to dispose of the case in bulk at one stroke, and even in this a disposition is shown to discredit the majority report by dodging it.

Some Democrats, Senator Price amon report which they do not endorse and they do not desire to have the vote they do not desire to have the vote taken on the report. They prefer a resolution declaring Fleming duly elected. If this be done there will never be anything on record to show what induced the joint assembly to declare Fleming Governor, nor would it ever appear what plurality was discovered for him by the contest proceedings. Republicans will not agree to this way of doing the job, and there is a possibility that enough Democrats will concide with them to alter the programme. The possibility is not strong enough to move mountains, and is indicated more by present professions of an intention to make the proceedings fair and decorous than by anything done or left undone on the Democratic side since the beginemocratic side since the beginning of the affair last winter.

Last night it was understood that the Committee on Rules would not permit that Judge Fleming did not desire to be heard, the two Republicans on the Committee desired a way opened for both. At this morning's meeting of the Nation if necessary. Houses are going Committee Col. Chew voted with the Committee Col. Chew voted with the Republicans to allow contestant and contestee to appear. He said he thought that it was their right, and the exercise of it a matter of taste. Col. Chew's action having leaked out, a Republican said "Col. Chew was a brave Confederate sodier. He stood up and let us shoot at him; that is the kind of a December from which some contest of the conte Democrat from whom you may expect just what he has done."

just what he has done."
Republicans are pleased that Goff is to discuss the case, and many Democrats are eager to hear him, though most of them say in public that his appearance will be in very bad taste.

THE PEOPLE'S CAUSE. General Goff feels that the cause the people's and that only a false idea of modesty, indicating real egotism, could modesty, indicating real egotism, could make his personality of so much importance us to forbid him to defend by all legal means that which the people committed to him. The question of taste as raised by the other side is not tormenting. Republicans. Democrats are predicting that since Goff will tempt providence he will be flayed alive before their side is done with him. Goff is serene to night, not knowing what is in store for him.

ORDER OF THE SPEAKING. Judge Okey Johnson will open for the whole of the first day. Mr. Hubbard will follow. Goff next, then St. Clair for the contestant; followed by Senato Maxwell. Chairman McKee of the Con-test Committee will conclude. This is the present understanding. Such mem bers as desire to lalk will be sandwiched longer. If Democratic managers have their way there will, be little to do but listen to the discussion and vote for against the base proposition to seat Fleming.

Mr. Springer called up his resolution providing that the House shall proceed next Thursday to select the site for the fair by ballot, and it was discussed for an hour. Mr. Springer urged the importance of speedy action on the proposition. Barnesville's Sensation

The body of John R. Hobbs, who died last July, was again quietly exhumed at Barnesville last Saturday evening, under the direction of the Coroner, and Prose-Barnesville last Saturday evening, under the direction of the Coroner and Prosecuting Attorney. It will be remembered that there were alleged suspicious circumstances connected with the young man's death. For satisfactory reasons the body was first exhumed in September, or about two months after the burial. On that occasion the stomach was removed and sent to a Columbus chemist, who analyzed the same and, it is stated, reported to the proper persons the finding of enough arsenic in the same to cause death. The matter was now supposed to be in the hands of the Prosecuting Attorney, whom it seems has been slow in working up the matter. The second exhuming of the body is said to have been done at the request of the chemist, making the examination of other organs of the body before making a complete report. There is much interest taken by Barnesville people in this case, and all are wondering what future investigations will bring forth.
